Safty And Security Are In The Spotlight

Kia ora tatou,

As crime and anti-social behaviour have been on the increase for far too long, there have been some welcome government announcements recently regarding proposed changes in legislation that will hopefully be passed later in the year. These changes, if passed, will increase sentences for some offenders involved in violent and/or retail crime. There are also moves afoot to speed up the criminal justice processes so that offences are dealt with more quickly, which will again be of benefit to the victims of crime and society in general.

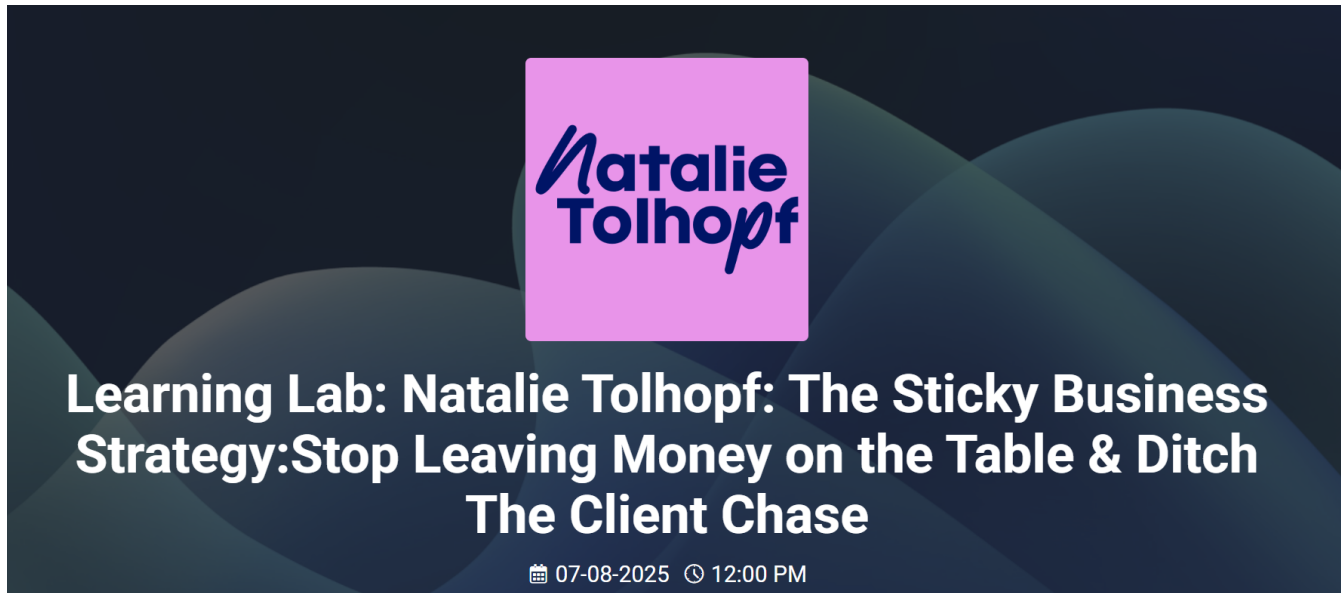

At BNH the safety and security of our members, their teams and their properties are of paramount importance, which is why we invest in nightly security patrols throughout the business district 365 nights per year and why we recently increased our CCTV coverage within the business district. BNH also offers free crime prevention resources and security assessments so if you'd like to find out more about these resources and services or if you have any security or safety-related questions please contact Dave Loader crimeprevention@businessnh.org.nz.

Friday, 8th August, 1.00 - 3.00pm
Business North Harbour
Workshop runs from 1.00pm until 3:00pm with light refreshments provided.

A customer or one of your staff needs urgent medical assistance. You are the first and possibly the only person there to respond. You've rung 111, and the St John Ambulance is on its way. What you do in the next 4-12 minutes before the St John Ambulance arrives could save that person's life.

St John has designed a two-hour workshop to up-skill staff. Attendees will be shown how to deal with the five most common situations they are likely to encounter in their workplace environment which could be a cardiac arrest, a falling injury, or a person cut and badly bleeding. The aim of this workshop is to up-skill staff to compliment, or assist, your fully trained first aiders.

- Managing an unconscious patient who does not require CPR
- Best positioning, airway management, and environment assessment

NZ Post To End Manual Mail Forwarding

What's Changing

NZ Post will stop forwarding mail or untracked parcels addressed to non-serviced locations (e.g., incorrect or missing PO Boxes/Private Bags). Instead, these items will now be returned to the sender. Impacted customers will receive a notification letter explaining when the change will take effect in their area.

Why It's Changing

Manually identifying and redirecting mail creates extra handling work. This change aims to reduce rework and streamline operations, ensuring mail reaches the correct destination when addressed accurately at the time of posting.

How to Add Your Business

- Existing NZ Post Business Account holders: Contact your NZ Post Account Manager or email changesupport@nzpost.co.nz
- New to NZ Post Business? Email changesupport@nzpost.co.nz for setup help.

What's Next

- After signing up for the Change service, you can cleanse your customer data using NZCOA (New Zealand Change of Address). Contact datasolutions@nzpost.co.nz for more info.
- You can also register for free as a consumer to preview the service before committing as a business.
